N attempt has been made to collect in this volume the several Bulls, Charters and other documents which relate to the constitution of the Collegiate Church and Hospital of the Holy Trinity, Edinburgh, and to the gifts by successive Sovereigns to the Magistrates and Town Council of the City, after the Reformation, of the property and revenues of Trinity College and other ecclesiastical establishments for the support of the charity still known as the Trinity Hospital, and for other pious uses. Most of these documents have been previously printed in one form or another, and at different times, to serve temporary purposes, but so inaccurately as to render the meaning obscure.

It is hoped that the present collection will be found more accurate and complete than any hitherto made.

The labour involved in making this collection has been greatly increased by the disappearance of several of the Charters, which seem to have been in the archives of the City at a period not very remote. It would have been satisfactory to have verified the translations of the various charters now given, by a reference to the Signatures on which the Charters proceeded. Only one of the Signatures, however,—that of the charter of 1612,—has been found. The disappearance of such documents, and the decay of those that remain, is the best possible inducement to the Corporation to persevere in the duty of having all its more important muniments printed ; and it may be hoped that the present collection will be useful in the administration of the important charity which has been entrusted to the Magistrates and Council.

CHARTER by KING JAMES THE SIXTH, under his Great Seal, whereby with the advice of the Lords of his Privy Council, he confirmed Queen Mary's Charter of 13th March 1566-7 [No. XI.], and of new gave, granted, and disposed to the Provost, Bailies, Councillors and Community of the Burgh of Edinburgh, and their successors, the several subjects conveyed by that charter, to be by them applied in all time coming to the sustentation of the ministry, the help of the poor, the repairing of schools, the increase of letters and science, at the discretion of them and their successors as should seem to them most advantageous. They were also empowered to accept of whatsoever other annual rents and yearly profits, as well without as within the Burgh, might be given by any persons for the maintenance of the ministers of the gospel, the help of the poor, and the sustentation of schools for the increase of science and learning. The King further ratified and confirmed the renunciation and demission made by John Gibb in favour of the said Provost, Bailies, Councillors and Community, for themselves and their successors, and in name and on behalf of the ministers and poor, of all right and title which Gibb had to the provostry of the Kirk of Field. The said Provost, Councillors, and their successors were further empowered to build and repair sufficient houses and places for the reception, habitation, and teaching of the professors of the schools of grammar, humanity, and the languages, philosophy, theology, medicine, and law, or any other liberal sciences, and these several purposes it was declared should be held to be no invasion of the original mortification. By this Charter also, the Provost, Bailies, and Councillors, and their successors, with advice of their ministers, were empowered to choose the professors of the College of Edinburgh, and also to place and remove them as should be expedient: and all others were discharged from professing or teaching the said sciences within the liberty of the Burgh unless they were permitted to do so by the Town Council; but it was provided that the ministers present and to come, serving in the churches thereby conveyed, should be sustained out of the readiest fruits of the same. - *XX. CHARTER by KING JAMES THE SIXTH, under his Great Seal, whereby, with the advice and consent of the Lords of his Privy Council, he confirmed his Charter of the provostry of Trinity College dated 23d June 1585 [No. XVIII.], and farther, after mature deliberation, being fully resolved to alter the destination of the whole fruits, profits, and emoluments of Trinity College, as well those pertaining to the provost as to the prebendaries, chaplains, and other members thereof, the services for which these were formerly founded being nowise necessary, and to transfer the same to the use of the ministers, the teaching of literature, and the sustaining of the poor, he, with advice foresaid, of new granted to the Provost, Bailies, Councillors, and Community of the Burgh of Edinburgh, and their successors, the provostry of Trinity College and whole pertinents thereof, including the donation and right of patronage of prebends and chaplainries of the said College, with the donation of beidmen and bedlyars, and of other officers of the said provostry and Hospital of the said College founded near the same, together with the churches of Soltray and Lompithaw, &c., with the place, orchard, and yard of Dingwall Castle, &c., and all other pertinents belonging to the said provostry, and also the whole properties and revenues belonging to, or which were formerly possessed by, the prebendaries and chaplains of the said College, with all the properties and revenues founded and mortified to the said College, provost, prebendaries, and members thereof, or to the upholding of the church houses and buildings of the said College; with power to uplift the whole profits and produce of the subjects conveyed, and to apply the same to the sustaining of the Ministers, College, Grammar Schools, and Poor people, at their own good discretion, whereanent the King burdened their consciences. And the grantees were relieved from the obligations imposed by any clauses in the foundation of Trinity College to present any prebendary or chaplain to the prebends or chaplainries then vacant, or that might thereafter become vacant, or to grant to them any special title to the same; which clauses were thereby annulled and abrogated, that the mortification contained in the Charter might receive effect, and that the foresaid profits might be all collected and ingathered together in one rental and disposed to the foresaid uses. Moreover, the King willed and granted that the said Provost, Bailies, Councillors, and Community, and their successors, should have the full right of property in all the subjects thereby conveyed, with the superiority of the whole lands, and all the rights incident thereto, as fully as the provost, prebendaries, and hospitallers could have enjoyed or exercised the same, by reason of their foundation or otherwise. Farther, the said Provost, Bailies, Councillors, and Community, and their successors, were empowered to sustain within the Hospital lately built and repaired by them within a part of Trinity College Church, as many poor persons as could be conveniently sustained upon the rents of the Hospital of Trinity College, and to apply Trinity Hospital, which was then in a ruinous condition, to whatever other profitable use should seem most expedient. To be holden in pure and perpetual alms for ever, as in the Charter of 23d June 1585, the grantees being always bound to lay out and expend the whole annual produce of the subjects conveyed to the foresaid uses, and to account therefor to the King and his successors whenever required. But the life-ent rights of the prebendaries of the said College then living were expressly reserved. Dated at Holyrood 26th May 1587, in the twentieth year of the King's reign.

those arrangements which have been made by pious ordinance for the praise and glory of the Divine name, as well as for the advantage of the poor and necessitous, and the weal of souls, so that they may be enriched by continual additions, and remain for ever unimpaired. Inasmuch as it was explained to us a short time ago on thy behalf, that after our predecessor, Pope Nicholas the fifth of happy memory, for certain explicit reasons at the time had, with apostolic authority, by his letters erected the Hospital for the poor of Soltray, in the diocese of St Andrews, into an office of dignity in the Church of St Andrews, named the Chancellorship, with consent of the late Allan Cant, then rector of the said hospital, and had provided the said Allan with the same chancellorship, the chancellorship foresaid, which belongs by right of patronage to the King of Scotland for the time, becoming vacant by the death of the said Allan, who, to the last day of his life, peaceably held and possessed the said chancellorship, and at length died outwith the Roman Court, James, King of Scots, of famous memory, the true and only patron of the said chancellorship while he lived, had presented, within the lawful time, our beloved son John of Tyre, clerk of the diocese of St Andrews, bachelor-in-laws, for the chancellorship thus vacant, to the Vicar-general in things spiritual of our venerable brother

Iohannem in Cancellarium eiusdem ecclesie ordinaria auctoritate instituerat, quarum quidem presentationis et institutionis vigore idem Iohannes Cancellariam predictam pacifice fuerat assecutus; ac subiuucto, quod tu ad laudem Omnipotentis Dei unam Collegiatam ecclesiam cum hospitali pauperum prope burgum de Edyburg ex parte boreali, dicte diocesis, pro divini cultus augmento, ac Christi pauperum et aliarum miserabilium personarum receptione et sustentatione, de bonis tibi a Deo collatis de novo fundaveras, ac egregio quodam opere construi et edificari feceras, et tam carissimus in Christo filius noster Iacobus Scotorum Rex Illustris, cuius progenitores ipsum hospitale de Soltre ad usum Christi pauperum fundarunt, voluntates suorum progenitorum pro posse observari facere, quam tu, ut prefatum in Cancellariam erectum hospitale ad statum pristinum restitueretur, ipsique novo hospitali erecto incorporaretur, ferventer exoptabatis, prefatus quoque Rex ad hoc consensum prestare paratus existeret, et prout accepimus, ipse Iohannes in favorem dicte unionis, et ut etiam Cancellaria ipsa ad hospitale de Soltre, sicuti prius fuerat, reduceretur, eandem Cancellariam, quam obtinebat, sponte et libere resignare pro-

the Bishop of St Andrews, and the said vicar, by his authority as Ordinary, had inducted the said John to the Chancellorship of the same church, by virtue of which presentation and induction the said John had peaceably obtained the said Chancellorship; and it being subjoined that thou, of the goods bestowed on thee by God, hadst anew founded, and in splendid manner hadst caused to be constructed and erected, to the praise of Almighty God, a Collegiate Church with an Hospital for the poor, near the Burgh of Edinburgh, on the north side, in the said diocese, for the furthering of divine worship, for the reception and maintenance of Christ's poor and other miserable persons; and both our most beloved son in Christ, James, illustrious King of Scots, whose forefathers founded the said Hospital of Soltray for the use of Christ's poor, in order that the wishes of his ancestors might be observed as far as possible, and thysel, fervently desired that the foresaid Hospital, which had been erected into a Chancellorship, should be restored to its pristine state and be incorporated with the same newly erected Hospital for ever, and that the foresaid King was prepared to give his consent to this, and, as we understood, the said John proposed of his own will and freely to resign the said Chancellorship which he held, in favour of such union, and also in

Cum autem pro parte tua nuper nobis exhibita petitio continebat, [quod] Venerabilis frater noster Thomas modernus Episcopus Dunkeldensis, et non Alanus prefatus, dictam Cancellariam erigi procuraverit, ac tempore date litterarum earundem ecclesia prefata nondum in collegiatam totaliter erecta, nequè sumptuosis structuris completa fuerit, ac prius dictus Iohannes resignationem ipsam in manibus prefati Episcopi Sancti Andree, et deinde eiusdem Episcopi Glasguensis fecerit, propter que de ipsarum litterarum viribus posset forsitan hesitari:

But since the petition lately presented to us on thy behalf set forth that our venerable brother Thomas, present Bishop of Dunkeld, and not the foresaid Allan, procured the said Chancellorship to be erected, and at the time of the date of the same letters the foresaid church had not as yet been wholly collegiated, nor completed in splendid structure, and that the forementioned John made the said resignation in the hands of the foresaid Bishop of St Andrews, and BULL by Pope Pius the Second reciting the foundation by Queen Mary of Gueldres of the Collegiate Church and Hospital of the Holy Trinity, and confirming the annexation thereto of the Hospital of Soltray, and the Chapel of Utherogall in Fife. Dated 6th Idus Julii (10th July) 1462.

PIUS EPISCOPUS, etc. Ad futuram rei memoriam. Inter multiplices curas que nobis ex Apostolatus officio censentur incumbere, illas libenter amplectimur per quas in ecclesiis quibuslibet devote sollicitudinis studio benedicatur Altissimus ac in hospitalibus et aliis piis locis pauperum et aliarum miserabilium personarum necessitatibus succuratur, nec non hiis que propterea proecessisse comperimus ut perpetuo illibata persistent Apostolici muniminis adjicimus firmitatem. Sane pro parte dilecte in Christo filie nostre Marie Regine Scotorum illustris nobis nuper exhibita petitio continebat, quod olim ipsa de propria salute recogitans et ad caritatis opera maxime circa egenos et pauperes manus juxta evangelica documenta extendens, dum adhuc clare memorie Jacobus II. Rex Scotorum vir ejus ageret in humanis, quoddam Hospitale pro susceptione

PIUS the Bishop, etc. For future memory of the fact. Among the manifold cares which are deemed to be incumbent on us, by reason of our apostolic office, we willingly embrace those by which, in all churches, with the zeal of devout solicitude, the Most High is praised and succour rendered to the necessities of poor and other wretched persons in Hospitals and other pious places, and to those foundations which we find have made progress in this respect, that they may remain unimpaired for ever, we have added the strength of apostolic confirmation. Truly the petition, lately presented to us on the part of our beloved daughter in Christ, Mary the illustrious Queen of Scots, contained, that formerly she, having regard to her own weal, and for works of charity, especially to the poor and needy, stretching out her hands according to the lessons of the Gospel, whilst as yet James II. of distinguished memory, King of Scots her husband was alive, pauperum et egenorum eorundem extra oppidum regium de Edinburgh Sancti Andree diocesis construi et edificari fecit, illudque dotavit et successive boni operis fructum provida consideratione attendens et ad majora pietatis officia ferventius aspirans juxta Hospitale predictum quandam insignem ecclesiam sive capellam pro Collegio fundato unius videlicet prepositi et decem aut duodecim presbyterorum et clericorum inibi collegialiter et perpetuo Altissimo servitutorum erexit, ac ecclesiam predictam magnifico et sumptuoso opere continuavit, et quantotius illam divina cooperante gratia perficere intendit, nec non quandam bonam baroniam atque alias possessiones census annuos redditus et bona usque ad summam centum mercarum vel circiter in dotem eidem ecclesie assignavit et annuente Domino multo amplius in posterum dotem ipsam ampliari intendit. Cum autem felicis recordationis Nicolaus Papa V. predecessor noster quoddam Hospitale pauperum de Soltre nuncupatum dicte diocesis, quod de jure patronatus Regis Scotorum pro tempore existentis fore dignoscitur, et deformi ruine subiacebat, et in quo nulla hospitalitas servabatur, in Cancellariam ecclesie Sancti Andree, per quascaused to be constructed and built a certain Hospital for the reception of poor and needy persons outwith the royal City of Edinburgh, in the diocese of St Andrews, and endowed the same, and afterwards waiting with provident consideration for the fruit of good works, and more fervently aspiring to greater offices of piety, she erected near the Hospital aforesaid a noble church or chapel for the College that had been founded, viz., of one Provost and ten or twelve priests and clerks there in collegiate manner, and perpetually to serve the Most High, and has continued the church aforesaid with magnificent and sumptuous work, and intends as soon as possible, with the assistance of divine grace, to finish the same. She has besides assigned for the endowment of the said church a good barony and other possessions, property, annual rents, and goods to the sum of one hundred merks or thereby; and with the favour of God intends more amply to enlarge the said endowment in future. Since, moreover, our predecessor, Pope Nicholas V. of happy memory, by certain letters of his, ordered a certain hospital for the poor, called the Hospital of Soltray, of said diocese, which in right of patronage is known to belong to the King of Scots for the time being, and lay in shapeless ruin, and in which no hospitality was kept, to be erected into a Chancellorship of the church of St

It was humbly supplicated of us, on the part of our most dearly beloved son in Christ, James the present King of Scots, the eldest son of the said Queen, and also of the foresaid Queen, that we should of our apostolic benignity vouchsafe to confirm the foundation, endowment, annexation, and union aforesaid, and to unite to the same Hospital by authority of the Ordinary, the chapel of Utherogall of said diocese, which in like manner belongs in right of patronage to the said King, and of which, and of the Hospital of Soltray, the foresaid fruits, revenues, and proceeds do not, as is asserted, exceed the annual value of seventy pounds sterling, according to the common estimate, and also, for the more secure subsistence of these foundations to add the strength of apostolic confirmation, and also, for abundant security, of new to erect the foresaid church into a Collegiate Church with collegiate insignia, and otherwise to make suitable

BULL by Pope Pius the Second, granting a plenary indulgence to all who in a devout spirit of contrition visit the Church of Trinity College in the course of five years during the Feast of its Dedication, on the 10th of July or its Octaves, &c. Dated 27th August 1463.

PIUS II. etc. To all the faithful in Christ, who shall see these present letters, greeting, etc. A very great gift certainly is wont to be conferred on a Christian people, when an opportune piety comes forward compassionately to wash away the stains of souls, and to procure celestial happiness, especially when at the same time both the house of God is enlarged and succour is afforded to the indigence of Having, therefore, learned that a famous Collegiate Church, or Chapel, or Hospital of poor of the Holy Trinity outwith the royal town of Edinburgh, in the diocese of St Andrews, has been founded by our dearest daughter in Christ Mary, the widow of James the Second of renowned memory, King of Scots, and has been erected and carried on by magnificent and expensive workmanship for one provost and ten or twelve ecclesiastics, presbyters, and clerks, who there in a collegiate manner and perpetually serve the Most High, and which, with the assistance of divine grace, our most dearly beloved son in Christ, James the Third, the present illustrious King of Scots, son of the said James the Second and of the foresaid Mary, intends to complete. JAMES by diuine morey Archbishop of St Andrews, Primate of the whole

Scotie primas et apostolice sedis legatus, Dux Rossie, et commendatarius perpetuus monasterii de Dunfermling etc. vniuersis sancte matris Ecclesie filiis ad quorum notitias presentes litere peruenerint, salutem in omnium saluatore. Ut ecclesiarum omnium et presertim collegiatarum per prouinciam et diocesim nostram consistentium, et ad illarum decorem inibi dignitates obtinentium personarum status salubriter dirigi seruarique possit honestius, ac numerus personarum diuinum ibidem psallentium officium oportunior habeatur, nostri libenter fauoris impertimur presidium, potissime cum temporum requirit necessitas, cause persuadent rationabiles, et diuini cultus augmentum salubriter id exposcit: Exhibita siquidem nobis nuper per dilectum nostrum clericum magistrum Johannem Brady prepositum Ecclesie Collegiate Sancte Trinitatis prope Edinburgh nostre diocesis, petitio continebat, quod in dicto Collegio tantum octo prebendarii pro nunc existunt, et si numerus prebendariorum augetur, in non modicum diuini cultus augmentum et ipsius ecclesie collegiate honorem et vtilitatem cederet et deueniret, et sicut eadem petitio subiungebat si parochialis ecclesia de Donnottir nostre diocesis, ad nostram collationem et plenariam dispositionem spectans et kingdom of Scotland, and Legate of the apostolic see, Duke of Ross, and perpetual commendator of the monastery of Dunfermling, etc. : To all the sons of Holy Mother Church to whose notice these present letters shall come, greeting in the Saviour of all : We willingly grant our friendly aid, especially when the necessity of the times requires, reasonable causes induce, and the salutary advancement of divine worship demands, that the condition of all churches, especially collegiate, throughout our province and diocese, and for their honour, of persons holding dignities therein, may be wholesomely regulated, and more creditably maintained, and that the number of persons chanting divine service in the same may be more adequate; inasmuch as a petition lately presented to us by our beloved clerk, Master John Brady, provost of the Collegiate Church of the Holy Trinity near Edinburgh, in our diocese, set forth that in the said College there are now only eight prebendaries, and that if the number of prebendaries were increased, it would tend to the great advancement of divine worship, and to the honour and profit of the Collegiate Church itself, and as the same petition went on to say, if the parish church of Dunnottir in our diocese, belonging and pertaining to our collation and free grant, were pertinens, dicto Collegio uniretur et incorporaretur, dueque prebende pro duobis prebendariis ex fructibus dicte ecclesie parochialis, in augmentum dictorum octo prebendariarum inibi existentium constituerentur, crearentur et erigerentur, ipsi ecclesie collegiate plurimum prouideretur, cultusque diuinus exinde augmentaretur in eadem; quare per dictum magistrum Johannem nobis fuit humiliter supplicatum ut super hiis prouidere de ordinaria autoritate dignaremur: Nos vero attendentes petitionem huiusmodi justam et rationi consonam, de premissis omnibus et singulis ac eorum circumstantiis uniuersis inquisiuimus, et nos diligenter informauius, et per informationem eandem reperimus omnia et singula per dictum magistrum Johannem asserta et narrata, ut premittitur, vera et veritate fuleiri: Idcirco autoritate nostra ordinaria qua fungimur in hac [parte] matura deliberatione et solempni tractatu cum priore et capitulo nostre ecclesie in talibus fieri solito prehabitis, ad Dei laudem et Sancte et Indiuidue Trinitatis gloriam et honorem, et in diuini cultus augmentum, duas prebendas pro duobis prebendariis perpetuo Deo seruituris in eadem ecclesia Collegiata Sancte Trinitatis, de united to and incorporated with the said College, and two prebends for two prebendaries were constituted, created, and erected out of the fruits of the said parish church, in addition to the said eight prebendaries which are now therein, the said Collegiate Church would be well provided for, and divine worship in the same advanced thereby; wherefore we were humbly besought by the said Master John that we would deign of our authority as Ordinary to provide in regard to these matters. And we, considering the said petition to be just and agreeable to reason, have diligently inquired and informed ourselves concerning all and singular the premises and their circumstances, and by the same information have found all and singular the things so asserted and narrated by the foresaid Master John to be true and supported by the truth: Therefore by our authority as Ordinary, which we exercise in these parts, after mature deliberation and solemn consultation previously had with the prior and chapter of our church, as is wont in such cases, to the praise of God and the glory and honour of the Holy and Undivided Trinity, and for the advancement of divine worship, we have created, erected, and deputed, as by these presents we create, erect, and depute two prebends for two prebendaries, to be described below, to serve God for ever in the said Collegiate Church of the Holy Trinity out of the fruits of the said parish

Moreover, the first of these prebendaries shall be called the Dean, who, in the absence of the provost, shall be principal and president in the choir and chapter of the same church, and shall have all the jurisdiction of the provost in the same, the provost himself being absent, in his presence however the whole jurisdiction and power of the said Dean shall cease, but he shall have the first and principal place after the provost in the church and

LETTER by King James V. to Pope Clement VII., praying his Holiness to grant Indulgences to those who should visit the Trinity College, and aid in the completion of the Building. Stirling, 22d March 1531.

Sanctissimo Domino nostro Pape.

BEATISSIME pater, post humillimam prostrationem ad pedes Sanctissimos. Est Collegium non incelebre juxta oppidum nostrum Edinburgi, ab olim Serenissima principe Maria Regina Scotie, proavia nostra, fundatum, cuius prepositus est Iohannes Dingvalli, vir prudens et probus, Romane Sedis prothonotarius, qui jam secum destinavit choro

To our most holy Lord, the Pope.

MOST blessed Father—after the most humble prostration at your most holy feet—there is a somewhat famous College, near to our town of Edinburgh, founded by the most serene Princess, Mary, formerly Queen of Scotland, our great grandmother, the Provost of which is John Dingwall, a prudent and good man, prothonotary of the Roman see, who has purposed with himself to make magnifice extracto reliquum templi equare, unde opus non sine ingenti impensa absolvendum aggressus est, quod ut facilius perficiat, et ut communi juvetur auxilio, cupit ut Vestrae Sanctitatis beneficio gratiose indulgentie omnibus vere penitentibus, contritis et confessis Collegium hoc in festo dive Trinitatis, et per octavas, devotionis causa visitantibus, ac fabrice eiusdem adiutrices manus porrigentibus, pro ipsius prepositi vita tantum concedantur, possitque, per se vel idoneos presbyteros, ejusmodi indulgentias consequendi causa concurrentium confessiones audire, atque illos absolvere. Quare Vestram Sanctitatem rogamus, (ut) his tam piis desideriis benigne annuas, et indulgentias quam amplissimas, ceteraque omnia concedas, que prepositus, ipse supplicando juste postulaverit. Beatissime pater, eandem Vestram Sanctitatem Deus Optimus Maximus quam longissime felicem conservet. Ex arce nostra Stirlingensi, vigesimo secundo die mensis Martii, anno ab incarnatione Dominica trigesimo primo supra millesimum et quingentesimum.

the rest of the church conformable to the magnificently constructed choir, having thus undertaken a work not to be completed without great expense, which that he may the more easily accomplish, and that he may be assisted by the help of the public, he desires that by the beneficence of your Holiness, gracious indulgences may be granted, for the lifetime only of the Provost himself, to all who shall visit the College on this feast of the Holy Trinity, and during the Octaves, for the purpose of devotion, being truly penitent, contrite, and making confession, and who shall put forth helping hands to the building of the same, and that he may be empowered to hear the confessions of those who shall assemble for the sake of obtaining such indulgences, and to absolve them, either personally, or by suitable presbyters: Wherefore we crave your Holiness kindly to assent to these so pious wishes, and to grant indulgences as plenary as possible, and all other things, which the Provost himself may with justice humbly crave. Most blessed Father, may God Almighty very long preserve your Holiness in felicity. With power to the above mentioned Provost, Bailies, Councillors and Community, and their successors, by themselves and their collectors whom they shall appoint, to uplift and receive the said annual rents, fruits, duties, profits, and emoluments whatsoever, wherever they were formerly uplifted, to let and remove [from] the foresaid lands and tenements, to build and repair the ruinous places, and to restore and apply the same to hospitality or other similar lawful uses, as to them, with the advice of the ministers and elders of our said Burgh, shall seem fit, as freely in all respects as the said prebendaries, chaplains, and friars before written might have enjoyed and possessed the same aforetime. Moreover, the said Provost, Bailies, Councillors, and their successors shall be holden and obliged to support the ministers, readers, and other ecclesiastical charges out of the said annual rents, profits, and duties, according to the value and quantity of the same, and to apply the places and buildings to be repaired for hospitality and other uses foresaid. Wherefore, with advice aforesaid, we, by these presents, rescind and annul all and sundry such alienations, dispositions, and sasines, by which the first purpose and will of the founders is infringed, altered, and changed, by perverting the same to individual (or private) uses, to the effect that the same may be converted to the purposes above set forth. LETTERS of Remission by King James VI., dispensing with the erection of an Hospital on the Blackfriars Yards, and granting the site and buildings, &c., of Trinity College to the Provost, Bailies, Council and Community of Edinburgh for the purposes of an Hospital. 3d January 1566-7.

JACOBUS Dei gratia Rex Scotorum : Universis et singulis ad quorum notitias presentes litere pervenerint, salutem. Universitati nostre constet et notum sit quod charissima nostra mater pro tempore Regina per suam cartam suo sub magno sigillo Totum et Integrum locum et pomeria que fratribus the Blackfreiris, predicatoribus olim nuncupatis, burgensibus Burgi nostri de Edinburgh pertinnerunt, cum eimiteriis et aliis pertinentibus ejusdem, pro constructione et plantatione unius Hospitalis

JAMES, by the grace of God King of Scots : To all and sundry to whose knowledge the present letter shall come, greeting. Be it certified and known to our whole community, that our dearest mother, for the time Queen, did, by her charter, under her great seal, give, grant, and dispoine All and Whole the place and yards which belonged to the Black friars, formerly called Friars Preachers, burgesses of our Burgh of Edinburgh, with the cemeteries and other pertinents of the same, for the construction and erection of an Hospital desuper pro adjuvamine seu auxilio pauperum, Preposito Ballivis Consulibus et Communitati dicti Burgi nostri de Edinburgh presentibus et eorum successoribus qui pro tempore fore contigerint, de nobis et successoribus nostris in libero burgagio pro servitio burgi usitato et consueto tenenda hereditarie dedit, concessit, et disposuit. Et quod in dicto infeofamento promissum est quod ipsi dictum Hospitale infra annum unum post datam dicti infeofamenti inchoarent ac idem intra spatium decem annorum de post proxime sequentium complerent, quemadmodum in memorato infeofamento sub magno sigillo de data apud Sanctum andream decimo sexto die mensis Martii anno Domini millesimo quingentesimo sexagesimo secundo latius continetur. Et quia nobis et Regenti antedicto evidenter monstratum et declaratum extat quod prefatus locus fratrum non tam commodus nec conveniens pro edificatione vel constructione et erectione dicti Hospitalis sicuti locus Collegii divini Trinitatis, orti, domus, et edificia ejusdem existit, ratione grandis frequentationis et confluentiæ tam alienigenorum quam legeorum nostri Regni qui prope per eundem indies accedunt, vel pertranseunt et frequentant, per quem seu quod emolumentum et auxilium ad dictum thereupon, for the relief or assistance of the poor, to the present Provost, Bailies, Councillors and Community of our said Burgh of Edinburgh, and those who shall happen to be their successors for the time being, to be held perpetually of us and our successors in free burgage, for service of burgh used and wont. And because it was promised in the said infeftment that they should begin the said Hospital within one year after the date of the said infeftment, and should finish the same within the space of the ten years thereafter next following, as in the said infeftment, under the great seal, dated at St Andrews, on the sixteenth day of the month of March, in the year of our Lord One thousand five hundred and sixty-two, is more fully set forth; and because it is clearly shewn and declared to us and the aforesaid Regent, that the friars' place before mentioned is not so suitable or convenient for the building or construction and erection of the said Hospital as the place of the Colledge of the Holy Trinity, and the yards, houses, and buildings of the same, by reason of the great crowd and concourse, both of strangers and of the lieges of our kingdom, who daily approach or pass through and frequent the same, by whom some profit and aid may daily accrue to the said Hospital and hospitale quotidie redundare et indigentibus personis in eodem pervenire poterit. Quodquidem dicti Prepositus Ballivi et Consules et Communitas in promptu construere et reparare inchoarunt, atque volentes inde quod proficuum et commoditas illius unius loci seu bondarum aut continentie cum loco fratrum super dicto Hospitali Collegii prescripti expendantur et exponantur. IDEO, et pro diversis aliis bonis seu divinis occasionibus et considerationibus nos et memoratum Regentem nostrum moventibus, cum prelibatis Preposito Ballivis Consulibus et Communitate dicti Burgi nostri de Edinburgh et eorum successoribus, penes illam partem et clausulam predicti infeofamenti inchoationem completionem ac edificationem antedicti Hospitalis concernentem super loco et bondis prefatorum fratrum intra spatium prescriptum, atque penes omne damnum lesionem et prejudicium que ipsis eorum infeofamento supradicto pro non completionem seu perimptionem ejusdem succedere et sequi poterunt, tenore presentium dispensavimus ac dispensamus. NECNON volumus et concedimus per presentes quod dictum infeofamentum in robore et effectu iis et eorum successoribus stet et remaneat non obstante dicta clausula ac provisione in eodem, ut reach the indigent persons within the same; which [Hospital] the said Provost, Bailies, Councillors and Community have promptly commenced to build and repair, and the more willingly, because the profit and advantage of that particular site, or of its bounds or continuity with the friars' place, may be expended and laid out on the said Hospital of the aforementioned College: Therefore, and for divers other good or pious reasons and considerations moving us and our Regent aforesaid, by the tenor of these presents, we have dispensed, and do dispense, in favour of the said Provost, Bailies, Councillors and Community of our said Burgh of Edinburgh, with that part and clause of the foresaid infeftment relating to the commencement, completion, and building of the foresaid Hospital upon the place and bounds of the forementioned friars within the time before-written, and with all loss, injury, and prejudice which can accrue to and fall on them from their infeftment above mentioned, for the non-completion or implementing of the same. Moreover, we, by these presents, will and grant that the said infeftment shall stand and abide in force and effect to them and their successors, the said clause and provision contained in the same, as aforesaid, notwithstanding, with which, by these presents, we for ever prefertur, contenta, cum hujusmodi (clausula) per presentes perpetuo dispensamus; ac etiam damus, concedimus, et committimus antedicto Preposito, et Ballivis, Consulibus, et Communitati, eorumque successoribus, nostram plenam licentiam et potestatem super prefato loco pomerio ortis, domibus, cemeterio et hujusmodi pertinentibus ad eorum majorem commoditatem et proficuum et valorem, in feodifirma annuo reddito annuatim assedandi utendi et quemadmodum eis expediri videbitur disponendi, sic quod annum proficuum redditus et devoria eorundem ad sustentationem dicti hospitalis divini Trinitatis Collegii et pauperum in eodem existentium ac nullis aliis redundare et applicari poterint; Ratificamus approbamus confirmamus nunc prout ex tunc, et ex tunc prout ex nunc, omnia talia feuda sive feodifirmas et dispositiones per ipsos Prepositum Ballivos Consules Communitatem et eorum successores, de prefatorum loco fratrum ortis domibus cemeterio et pertinentibus, quibuscunque persone vel personis, ad effectum supra specificatum duntaxat factas seu faciendas. Datum sub testimonio nostri magni sigilli apud Edinburgh tertio die mensis Januarij anno Domini millesimo quinquagesimo sexagesimo sexto [septimo?] et regni nostri primo.

dispense; and we also, give, grant, and commit to the aforesaid Provost and Bailies, Councillors and Community, and their successors, our full license and power of leasing, using, and disposing upon the foresaid place, yard, gardens, houses, cemetery, and such pertinents, in feu-farm [or] for a yearly rent, as shall seem to them expedient, for their greater advantage and profit, so that the annual profit, rents, and duties of the same shall increase and be applied to the sustentation of the said Hospital of the College of the Holy Trinity, and of the poor residing in the same, and of no others. And we then as now, and now as then, ratify, approve, and confirm all such feus or feu-farms and dispositions of the place of the foresaid friars, gardens, dwellings, cemetery, and pertinents, made or to be made, to the effect above specified only, by the said Provost, Bailies, Councillors, Community, and their successors, to whatsoever person or persons. Given under the testimony of our great seal, at Edinburgh, the third day of the month of January, in the year of our Lord One thousand five hundred and sixty-six [seven?], and the first of our reign.

CHARTER by King James VI. granting Trinity Church and Hospital to Sir Simon Preston, provost, and his successors the Provosts, Bailies, and Council of the Burgh of Edinburgh. Edinburgh, 12th November 1567.

JACOBUS Dei gratia Rex Scotorum : Omnibus probis hominibus totius terre sue clericis et laicis, salutem. SCIATIS quod nos et charissimus consanguineus Jacobus comes Moraue dominus Abirnethy etc. nostri regni Regens animo ferventi et zelo ducti ad supportandum et adjuvandum paupertatem penuriam et inopiam multarum et diversarum honestarum senium et impotentium personarum a quibus in earum senectute per eventum et adversam fortunam res et bona deciderunt, ne propter extremam famem penuriam et indigentiam sue necessarie sustentationis omnino perirent et morirentur, Nos propterea pietate et bona conscientia moti ad prestandum eis juvamen et auxilium prout eorum indigentia et necessitas requirit, ac etiam intelligentes quod hec predicta in omnibus commoda principia et initia capere non poterunt nec commode performari et ad finem perfectum pervenire valeant absque

JAMES, by the grace of God King of Scots : To all the good men of his whole land, clerics and laics, greeting. Know ye that we and our dearest cousin James earl of Murray lord Abernethie, &c., Regent of our kingdom, moved by fervent and zealous purpose to support and assist the poverty, penury, and want of many and divers honest, aged, and impotent persons, who in their old age have lost their means and substance by accident and bad fortune, so that they may not utterly perish and die through extreme hunger, penury, and want of their necessary sustenance ; we therefore, moved by piety and good conscience to afford them such help and assistance as their indigence and necessity requires ; as also understanding that the aforesaid purpose cannot in all respects be conveniently begun and commenced, nor conveniently perfected and accomplished, without our nostro supplemento auxilio et auctoritate; intelligentesque quod dominus Symon Prestoun de eodem miles animo est deliberato firmo et constanti proposito ad edificandum construendum ac cum omni cura et diligentia dotandum unum Hospitale cum rationabili sustentatione talibus predictis honestis indigentibus et impotentibus personis senibus et etate provecis egrotis, incolis et inhabitantibus infra nostrum Burgum de Edinburgh, ac etiam aliis senibus indigentibus et impotentibus qui idonei fuerint inventi ad acceptandum talia beneficia et gratitudines in dicto hospitali fundando. Nos propterea et Regens noster predictus intelligentes predictum propositum et opus omnibus modis non solum bonum et divinum fore, sed etiam volentes prestare occasionem aliis nostris subditis et ad alliciendos animos quorundam aliorum nostrorum ligeorum et subditorum ad simile propositum et opus talem divinam vocationem acceptandum, cum avisamento et consensu dominorum nostri secreti consilii expediens et necessarium fore duximus ad gratificandum dictum dominum Symonem prepositum dicti nostri Burgi de Edinburgh dono et donatione talis loci nunc in nostris manibus vacantis et ad nostram donationem spectantis et pertinentis, magis convenientis et idonei ad construendum et edificandum reparandum et supplement, aid, and authority; and understanding that Sir Simon Prestoun of that Ilk, knight, intends with deliberate, firm, and set purpose to build, erect, and with all care and diligence endow an Hospital, with reasonable support for such foresaid honest poor and impotent persons, aged and advanced in years, or sick, indwellers and inhabitants within our Burgh of Edinburgh, and also for such other old indigent and impotent people as shall be found fit for receiving such benefits and charity in the said Hospital so to be founded: Therefore, we and our foresaid Regent perceiving that the said purpose and work will be in every respect not only good and divine, but also willing to give occasion to others our subjects, and to incline the minds of certain others of our lieges and subjects to accept such a divine call to a similar purpose and work, with the advice and consent of the lords of our Privy Council, have deemed it expedient and necessary to gratify the said Sir Simon, provost of our said Burgh of Edinburgh, with the gift and donation of such a place now vacant in our hands, and belonging and pertaining to our gift, as shall be most fit and convenient for constructing and building, repairing and perfecting the said Hospital, with the houses, performandum dictum Hospitale eum domibus edificiis et hortis eiusdem, ubi major populi et gentium multitudo et confluentia tam extraneorum quam aliorum nostrorum ligeorum huius nostri oppidi frequentare videntur, et prope dictum locum quotidianum accessum ad dictum nostrum oppidum ac etiam regressum a dicto nostro oppido maxime habent, occasione cuius quotidiana elemosyna et auxilium ad dictum Hospitale augetur et increscet. QUARE nos propter bonum fidele et gratuitum servitium nobis nostro Regenti predicto et etiam predictis dominis nostri secreti consilii per dictum dominum Symonem Prestoun prepositum predictum temporibus retroactis et preteritis factum et impensum, ac etiam propter nonnullas alias occasiones et considerationes animum nostrum moventes erga dictum dominum Symonem Prestoun Prepositum Ballivos Consules et Communitatem dicti nostri Burgi de Edinburgh, dedimus concessimus et disposuimus, ac tenore presentis carte nostre, damus concedimus et disponimus dicto domino Symoni Prestoun nunc preposito dicti nostri Burgi de Edinburgh et successoribus suis Prepositis Ballivis Consulibus et Communitati eiusdem Burgi pro tempore existentibus, totam et integram ecclesiam vocatam Ecclesiam Collegiatam Trinitatis cum cimiterio domibus edificiis ruinatis et

FURTHER we, with advice foresaid, for divers good and reasonable causes and considerations moving us, of new by the tenor of these presents, give, grant, and dispone to the foresaid Provost, Bailies, Councillors, and Community of our said Burgh of Edinburgh and their successors, all and sundry the before named lands, tenements, houses, buildings, annualrents, chapels, places, yards, orchards, pomaria croftas census firmas proficua emolumenta et alia respective et particulariter superius specificata, per ipsos imperpetuum applicanda in sustentationem ministerii, pauperum auxilium, reparationem scolaram, propagationem literarum et scientiarum, pro eorum et successorum suorum arbitrio uti eis magis utile videbitur. Quibus etiam pro nobis et successoribus nostris plenariam ac liberam committimus potestatem quoscunque alios annuos redditus annua proficua quecunque tam extra quam intra dictum nostrum Burgum, que in posterum per quoscunque bono zelo ac liber[ali]tate sua motos ad alimentum ministrorum evangelii, auxilium pauperum, ac sustentationem gymnasiorum pro instaurandis scientiis et doctrina, donari et dotari contigerint acceptandi; Quas etiam terras annuos redditus et proficua suprascripta per prius donata et fundata ac in posterum donanda et fundanda ut premissum est, nos pro nobis et successoribus nostris nunc prout extunc et tunc prout exnunc confirmamus ratificamus et admortizamus ac easdem adeo libere mortificamus sicuti aliquę terre redditus tenementa et possessiones ecclesie ullo tempore precedenti mortificate fuerunt. To whom also we, for ourselves and our successors, grant full and free power to accept whatever other annualrents and yearly profits, as well without as within our said Burgh, may in time coming happen to be given and doted by any persons, moved by good zeal and their own liberality, for the maintenance of the ministers of the gospel, the help of the poor, and sustentation of schools for the increase of science and learning; which lands, annualrents, and profits above written, formerly doted and founded and to be hereafter doted and founded as aforesaid, we, for us and our successors, now as then and then as now, confirm, ratify, and mortify, and the same we mortify as freely as any lands, rents, tenements, and possessions of the church were mortified in any time bygone. renunciationem et dimissionem per familiarem servitorem nostrum Joannem Gib factam de omnibus jure et titulo que ipse virtute nostre donationis pretendere potuit ad preposituram Ecclesie beate Marie de Campis, (vulgo lie Kirk of Feild), cum fructibus terris possessionibus redditibus et devoriis ejusdem preteritis presentibus et futuris, in favorem dictorum Prepositi Ballivorum Consulum et Communitatis pro seipsis et eorum successoribus ac nomine et ex parte ministerii et pauperum. Ac quia intra privilegia et libertatem dicti nostri Burgi nunc diversa extant vasta et spatiosa loca que preposito prebendariis sacerdotibus et fratribus tempore preterito pertinuerunt maxime apta et commoda pro constructione domorum et edificiorum, ubi professores bonarum scientiarum et literarum ac studentes earundem remanere et suam diurnam [diurnam] exercitationem habere poterint ultra et preter alia loca convenientia pro hospitalitate ; Ideo nos, enixe cupientes ut in honorem Dei et commune bonum nostri regni literatura indies augeatur, volumus et concedimus quod licebit prefatis Preposito Consulibus et eorum successoribus edificare et reparare sufficientes domos et loca pro receptione habitatione et tractatione professorum scolarum grammati-

And because there are now within the privileges and liberty of our said burgh divers waste and spacious places which formerly belonged to the provost, prebendaries, priests, and friars, very fit and commodious for the construction of houses and buildings where the professors and students of the liberal sciences and letters might stay and have their daily exercise, besides and beyond other places convenient for hospitality [or charity]. Therefore, we, earnestly desiring that for the honour of God and the common good of our kingdom literature should daily increase, will and grant that it shall be lawful to the said Provost, Councillors, and their successors, to build and repair sufficient houses and places for the reception, habitation, and entertainment of the professors of the schools of grammar, humanity, and the calium, humanitatis, et linguarum, philosophic, theologie, medicine, et iurium, aut quarumcunque aliarum liberalium scientiarum, quo declaramus nullam fore rapturam predicte mortificationi; Ac etiam prefati Prepositus Ballivi et Consules ac eorum successores cum avisamento tamen eorum ministrorum pro perpetuo imposterum plenam habebunt libertatem personas ad dictas professiones edocendas maxime idoneas uti magis convenienter poterint eligendi cum potestate imponendi et removendi ipsos sicuti expediverit, ac inhibendo omnibus aliis ne dictas scientias intra dicti nostri Burgi libertatem profiteantur aut doceant nisi per prefatos Prepositum Ballivos et Consules eorumque successores admissi fuerint; Proviso quod presentes nullatenus prejudicabunt nec actoribus nec reis nec aliis interesse habentibus in ejectione et causa prosequuta penes decimas garbales de Dumberny Potie et Moncreif ad capellanos Ecclesie Beati Egidii de Edinburgh pertinentes neque juri patronatus ejusdem, sed quod utrique parti et omnibus interesse habentibus usque ad finalem exitum et decisionem in hujusmodi ut congruit prosequi et defendere liceat presentibus aut quibuscunque in eisdem contentis non obstantibus. Proviso etiam quod ministri

CHARTER, commonly called "The Golden Charter," granted by King James VI., under his Great Seal, to the Provost, Bailies, Council, and Community of Edinburgh. Holyrood, 15th March 1603.

JACOBUS Dei gratia Rex Scotorum : Omnibus probis hominibus tocius terre sue clericis et laicis, salutem : SCIATIS quia nos post justam et legitimam viginti quinque annorum etatem, jam diu adimpletam, peractasque omnes tam generales quam speciales nostras revocationes ; pro regia quam habemus sollicitudine considerantes insignem Civitatis nostre Edinburgene antiquitatem, quam illustrissimi felicissime memorie majores nostri in Regie Urbis dignitatem et eminentiam erexerunt et sublimarunt, tum quod civium in exteris regiones navigantium, et negotiationem exercentium cura et industria, et indefessis laboribus Regii patrimonii nostri census adauctus sit, regnum locupletatum, et subditi nostri eorum exemplo ad humaniorem cultum traducti ; caque urbs in publicis oneribus subeundis, vectigalibus et tributis pendendis, exactionibus ceterisque impositionibus prestandis maximum pre ceteris

JAMES, by the grace of God king of Scots : To all good men of his whole land, clerics and laics, greeting : Know ye that we, long after we had completed the just and lawful age of twenty-five years, and had accomplished all our revocations as well general as special : considering for the royal solicitude which we have, the remarkable antiquity of our City of Edinburgh, which our most illustrious progenitors of most happy memory advanced and erected into the dignity and eminence of a royal City, and that through the care, industry, and indefatigable labours of the citizens sailing to foreign regions and exercising trade, the revenue of our royal patrimony has been increased, the kingdom enriched, and our subjects by their example led to more refined way of living, and that the said City in bearing public burdens, in paying taxes and tributes, and in furnishing exactions and other imposts, is subject to and sustains the greatest burden com-urbibus onus impositum sentiat et sustinet, que non hac tempestate modo sed et multis retro seculis primaria princeps et totius regni maxime memorabilis, et ad patrie dignitatem illustrandam, et gloriam amplificandam aptissima extiterit, vtpote commodissimus publicis comitiis celebrandis locus, vbi nos et consilarii, principes et aulici nostri, majore cum frequentia versamur, et solennes omnium conventus iudicii consueverunt; adeoque supremus senatus ciuilibus controuersiis iudicandis constitutus, ab ipsis institutionis primordiis, et summus capitalium seu criminalium causarum iudex, stationem et continuum sedem delegerunt. Ad hec memoria repetentes et certissime intelligentes, strenuam fidelem et acceptam operam, egregia facinora, beneficia memorabilia, seruitia et obsequia officii plena, ab hac inclyta vrbe ejusque civibus prestita, et per omnem oblatam occasionem tam pacis quam belli temporibus, tum nobis ipsis, tum illustrissimis predecessoribus nostris impensa, non tantum in regno hocce contra hostes externos propugnando, verum etiam corporum suorum objectu et facultatum dispendio, jura Majestatemque Regiam contra rebellium subditorum insultus protegendo, qui ciuiliu discordiarum, interiorum motuum, et intestinorum bellorum temporibus, aduersus regale diadema, pared with other cities, and that it not only now is, but for many ages past has been, the first principal and most distinguished of the whole kingdom, and most fitted to shew forth the dignity and increase the fame of our country, as being the place most commodious for holding the public assemblies, where we, our councillors, nobles, and courtiers most frequently reside, and the stated general conventions are usually appointed, which also the supreme court constituted for the trial of civil suits, from its first institution, and the supreme judge of capital or criminal causes have chosen as their fixed quarters and seat: Moreover, calling to mind and perfectly understanding the strenuous, faithful, and acceptable endeavours, illustrious deeds, memorable benefits, services, and performances full of dutifulness, rendered by this renowned City and its citizens, and expended as well upon ourselves as on our most illustrious predecessors, on all occasions that offered in times both of peace and war, not only by fighting against foreign enemies in this kingdom, but also by the exposure of their bodies and the expenditure of their substance in defending our royal rights and majesty against the attack of rebellious subjects, who in times of civil discords, internal

Quemadmodum harum rerum monumenta in nonnullis vrbis inuestituris et regiarum donationum literis, ad perpetuam eorum laudis et fame in pōsteros propagationem transmissa reperiuntur, et nos ipsi post regalem a nobis apicem susceptum non obscura eorum fidelitatis et intimi erga nos amoris et spontaneae obedientiae documenta multoties experti sumus atque etiamnum in dies experimur; cognoscentes preterea hujus nostre urbis magistratus et cives instaurationem et extensionem p̄ire et portus sui Lethensis, constructionem fori et idoneae apteque aree ingentibus trabibus undiquaque septe ad continenda et venumdanda ligna, tigna, et omnis generis materiam ligneam edificiorum usui maxime necessariam, refectionem platearum, structuram plurium sacrarum edium et templorum, et eorum cum conveniente pastorum commotions, and intestine wars, attempted anything against the royal crown, sometimes when the princes were infants, sometimes when they had attained a greater age, with cruel effusion of their blood, loss of the lives of the citizens, the City itself often consumed by fire, with long-continued and extreme desolation, the wasting and plundering of their goods, in due perseverance in their duty towards the King's Highness and Majesty, bearing with equanimity greater damage and loss than almost all the other cities of our kingdom together were able to sustain. As memorials of these things are found preserved for the perpetuation of their praise and fame to posterity, in divers of their infeftments, and in letters of royal gifts: And we ourselves since we received the royal dignity, have many times experienced, and still daily experience, no obscure proof of their fidelity, hearty affection, and willing obedience to us: Understanding moreover, that the magistrates and citizens of this our City having not long ago undertaken the renovation and extension of their pier and port of Leith, the construction of a market place, and of a fit and proper area enclosed on all sides with a wooden fence for receiving and selling wood, logs, and timber of all sorts most needful for the erection of buildings, the repairing of streets, the

Nos neque nulla in re majoribus nostris impares, neque munificentia liberalitate nec grati animi significatione erga eos omnes ditioni nostre subjectos, qui industria virtute et magnanimitate sua, quicquam de nobis promereri possunt inferiores, decrevimus huic nostre civitati ejusque civibus ob eorum sincerum erga nos amorem et fidelitatem, et obsequia et facta premiis et commendatione dignissima, perpetuum posteris monumentum et gratitudinis et fautoris nostri regii testimonium futuris seculis duraturum relinquere, non solum priscarum immunitatum et privilegiorum ratihabitione, inuestiturarum publicorum agrorum censuum et regiarum largitionum approbatione, verum etiam nouorum majorum et digniorum preter supraque ceteras regni nostri vrbes et civitates amplificatione et augmentatione. His et aliis quam plurimis causis et rationibus equissimis nos moventibus et impellentibus, post nostram perfectam etatem, et diu post omnes revocationes nostras predictas, ex certa scientia et proprio motu, cum auisamento et consensu dominorum nostri secreti consilii, ac etiam cum expressis auisamento consensu et assensu nostrorum fidelium et familiarium consiliariorum domini Georgii Home de Spott militis nostri thesaurarii, ac domini Davidis Murray de Gosperdy militis nostrorum rotulorum computatoris, et Magistri Joannis Prestoun de Fentounbarnis nostri generalis collectoris ac thesaurarii nostrarum novarum augmentationum terrarum ecclesiasticarum hujus nostri regni ad nostram coronam, ratificavimus approbavimus ac pro nobis et nostris successoribus pro perpetuo confirmavimus, tenoreque presentis carte nostre ratificamus approbamus ac pro nobis et nostris successoribus pro perpetuo confirmamus omnes et quascunque cartas et infeofamenta, precepta, sasinarum instrumenta, confirmationes, acta, sententias, decreta, jura, titulos, securitates, literas, scripta, evidencias, donationes,
